DEDICATED TO YOU...

Here's to you 1980 students of good old EHS. After all, you made it possible. You played the parts and here they are captured and collected in a collage of memories.

As seventh graders, there was the excitement that came with the day of registration and the insecure feeling of the first day of school when the building seemed so enormous. The upper classmen returned with the question of is it all going too fast, or not fast enough. Along with October, came Homecoming Royalty, Queen Lori Tiegs and King Dennis Falk. Wedding bells rang as we were gathered in Holy Matrimony at the mock wedding of Tina Rada and Foster Beckstrand, whose marriage only managed to last the sort time of an hour. The pep club members brought the school spirit afire and went home with hoarse throats. The introduction of the Cardettes brought originality as they performed in new uniforms and in a change of style to the song "Born to Be Alive". The Juniors were in a state of desperation and would do anything for money. Fund raising took up Saturday afternoons to sell magazines, wash firetrucks, and to clean sunflower seeds. After all their hard work and honest effort, they put on an exotic Oriental prom on the night of April 12. Graduation brought mixed emotions with feelings of accomplishment, but yet maybe a tear in the eye or a lump in the throat. Just as the steps seemed never ending and each class went on for hours, the last day arrived before we knew it.

Now we have to stop and think where all the time went. So go ahead, turn the pages, and look back on 1980 with smiles and laughter.

THE SPIRIT OF THE CROWN

HOMEcoming...

Victory sums up the 25th annual Homecoming week in the Athletic Department. The girls' basketball team started it off with their victories over Britton and Edgeley. On Friday, the fighting Cardinal football team conquered the Ashley Aces.

During the week, the student body displayed their school spirit by following dress codes. Cowboys and cowgirls roamed the halls of EHS on Western Day. Hats, glasses, the 50's, and the school colors, red and black, were also a part of the dress code. A Dress-up Day was held which, in itself, is an annual event for some.

Coronation was held between the girls' games on Thursday. Lori Tiegs and Dennis Falk were crowned Queen and King. The other royalty included Stacey Snyder, Tim Johnson, Renee Vander Vorste, Amy Klatt, Doug Kendall, Nona Martin, and Gary Hokana.

A Homecoming Dance, put on by Student Council and FHA, followed the football game. Music was provided by the Pond Brothers.

GIRLS PLACE IN DISTRICT

Under the direction of Coach Wenaas and Assistant Coach Flaherty, the Girls' A Squad team got more than just a taste of victory. The Cardinals' winning season ended with a 10-4 record which was the best ever. Victories over Britton and LaMoure fired up the school spirit during Homecoming Week. The girls' team placed in District competition for the first time with their win over Oakes, 28-26, for 3rd place. In the challenge game for 2nd place, the Cards' were defeated by Montpelier. The total of 79 points scored against Edgeley was a school record for the most points in one game. A record for 680 points in one season was also established.

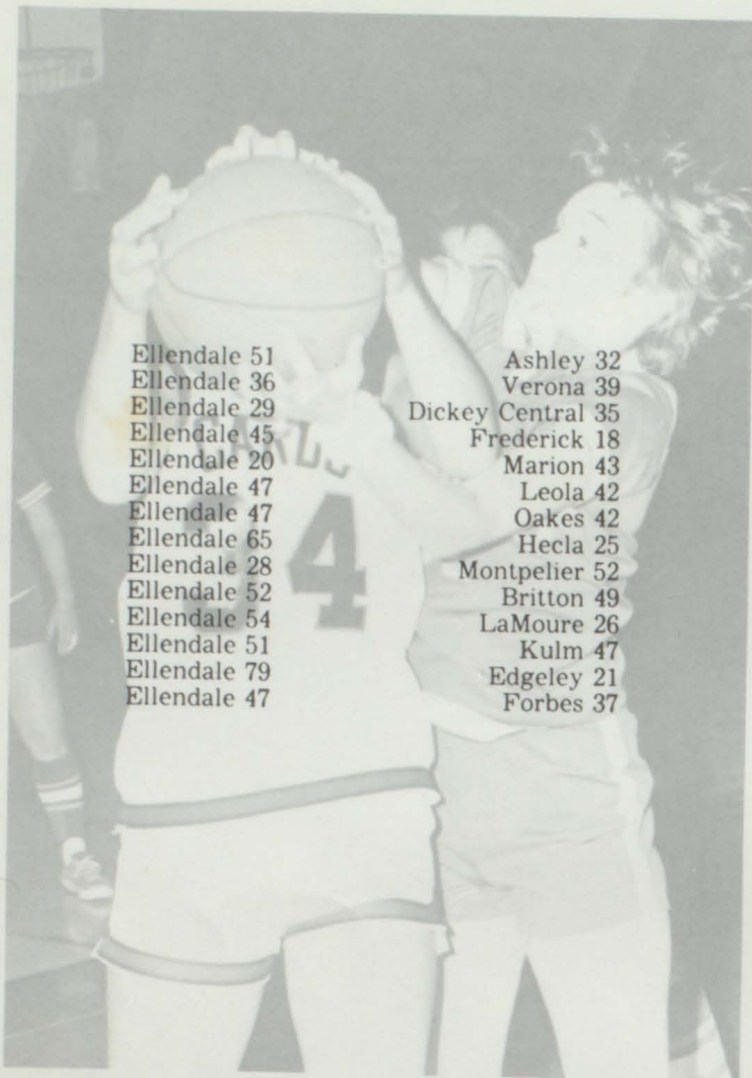

The B-Squad, coached by Shawn Flaherty, had an outstanding year. They finished their successful season with a 12-2 record.

WRESTLING

WHAT A YEAR

Coach Rick Ulmer and Assistant Coach Les Wagner put in a lot of time and effort to train the Cardinal Wrestling team which proved to be worthwhile with the result of an exceedingly competitive season. The Cards participated in three tournaments other than Conference and Regionals. As a team, the wrestlers took the first place title in the Carrington and the Ellendale Invitational tournaments. The Cardinal matmen took second place in the Wishek Tournament. Doug Robb and Dale Kurth put on a fine performance placing first in the three tournaments. The year turned out to be one of remarkable individual and team achievements.

STUDENT ASSISTANTS

The job as a student manager has few fringe benefits besides getting into all the games free. And they never get to watch the game because they are busy running back and forth between the coaches and the players. Managers are expected to do everything from keeping stats to scrubbing wrestling mats. Coaches and athletes appreciate their managers because they depend on them a lot.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

Pep and Spirit ... that's what we've got! EHS students let their spirit show. A poster contest was held during Homecoming Week. The class of '83 showed spirit by supporting their Homecoming Candidates with the most posters. The cheerleaders spent hours practicing cheers and planning pep-fests consisting of pudding, pie-eating, bubble-gum, and baby-face contests. The basketball cheerleaders set up a Pep Club to keep school spirit soaring. EHS athletes always give it their best in competition. They win some and lose some, but there's always that winning spirit. Athletes came out of games with all kinds of pains, bumps, and bruises while cheerleaders and faithful fans went home with hoarse throats. What's that we've got? Excess energy, lots of enthusiasm and pride!

BAND GETS NEW UNIFORMS

This year's band had the honor and privilege of showing off the new concert and marching band uniforms. The Ellendale-Forbes American Legion Drill Team presented twelve flags to the marching band. The proud band members dressed up in the new uniforms to march in the Valley City Homecoming, Aberdeen Gypsy Day and Memorial Day Parades. Under the direction of Mary Dieke, the band received a double-star rating at district contests. Band members also learned how to become good salesmen. They sold boxes of popcorn to help pay for the uniforms.

1980 JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET AND PROM

On April 12, the Juniors put on the Banquet and Prom for the Seniors. At the banquet, the school cooks served a turkey dinner with fortune cookies for dessert which told everyone's fate. Mr. Patrick Kremar, a past sixth grade teacher, was guest speaker. Starbird gave a grand performance at the banquet.

"Always and Forever" was the theme chosen for the Prom. Dragons, Chinese lanterns, and chimes were all part of the Oriental setting the Juniors dreamed up. Couples danced to the sound of Raven.

The Class of '81 went through what every Junior class goes through. There is so many last minute details and so many doubts, wondering if everything will get done. But the special evening is worthwhile with all its precious memories.

On May 22, the 50 seniors were thinking "Cherish Yesterday, Dream Tomorrow But Live Today" as they entered the school for their graduation. They chose dark blue, powder blue and white for their flower. Mark Betting and Rita Hatfield sang "The Rose." Peggy Walsh and Sharon Gebhardt gave a student address. The guest speaker was Dave Siefert. The class of 1980 received their diplomas from Barbara Heine and left the doors of the school to enter a new phase of their lives.

SENIORS

When the seniors were freshmen, graduation could not come too soon. As seniors, thoughts of the familiar faces and places you must leave behind made you wish your high school days were not quite so numbered. This year's seniors enjoyed occasional "Pit" privileges, a "Skip Day" at Pheasant Lake, and the work study program in addition to the regular activities.

Friends, classmates, and others, knew and liked Kay, because she put her whole self in everything she did. When she died we all lost something and we will all miss her, but we had the privilege of knowing her while she was here.

It's wonderful to have a friend
With whom you feel at ease
Who lets you talk and think
and act
Exactly as you please.
Who understands your quiet
moods
And doesn't mind your chatter
And when you do some thoughtless thing
Just says—"It doesn't matter"
It's wonderful to have someone
Who cheers you when you're blue
In other words, it's grand to have
A "perfect friend"—like you!

RINGS 'N THINGS

Along with becoming a Sophomore, comes the anticipation of ordering class rings. Moneymaking projects included bake sales and selling posters. The Sophomore Class also sponsored a sockhop.

JUNIOR HIGH

The Seventh graders found out what it's like to be at the bottom again and had to learn the system of EHS. They went through the usual irritation of being bounced around in the lunch line and rapped with class rings. The Eighth Graders are moving up. They became a part of homecoming by electing candidates. There was a battle of the sexes in the Eighth Grade. The boys struggled to defeat the girls. Seventh Grade officers were President Richard Voegeli, Vice President Jeff Roehl, Secretary Margo Brost, and Treasurer Kirby Robb. Eighth Grade class officers were President Lloyd Billey, Vice President Joey Beckstrand, Secretary Lisa Buchholz, and Treasurer Melodee Zink.

FACULTY

TEACHING EXCELLENCE

A teacher does more than just be in the classroom seven hours a day. He or she may spend long hours helping a student with an assignment or special project. A teacher must know and understand each student and their abilities.
